

Patterson and Bonaparte

An independent production of Make Your Mark Media, this one-hour documentary will tell the story of an amazing woman – Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte. The daughter of a wealthy Baltimore merchant, she married Napoleon’s younger brother and spent her life fighting to secure a title for their son.

Production Team

Mark Hildebrand will serve as the film’s producer, director and editor. His 2012 film Anthem: The Story Behind The Star-Spangled Banner – www.anthem1812film.com - has been aired over 2500 times on PBS stations all over the country. Maryland Public Television aired his latest film Brookeville: Capital for a Day - <http://www.mym-media.org/brookeville> - in August 2015. Mark has been executive director of Make Your Mark Media since 2009.

Julien Jacques will serve as director of photography on the film. He was co-editor and cameraman on Anthem: The Story Behind The Star-Spangled Banner and director of photography for Brookeville: Capital for a Day.

Alexandra Deutsch will serve as the film’s lead historian. Chief Curator of The Maryland Historical Society since 2009, she curated “Woman of Two Worlds:” Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte and Her Quest for an Imperial Legacy. Alexandra will publish a book about Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte later this year.

Interviewees will include noted author and historian Richard Brookhiser, French historian Charles Germain and historian Alexandra Deutsch.