Kim R. Burdick

Come and be amazed by the letters and writings by colonial Delawareans describing the arrival of the British army and the social upheaval it brought to our colony in September 1777. How did the marches and maneuverings of the British and American armies affect the people in their path – which went right through Hockessin?

Kim Burdick is a noted local historian, and author of Revolutionary Delaware: Independence in the First State. She is the curator of the Hale Byrnes House in Stanton and is a graduate of the Cooperstown Graduate Programs and of the College of Urban Affairs at the University of Delaware.
